

Handwritten text in a Gothic script, likely a Latin inscription, possibly reading "Johannes de eyck fuit hic" (John of Eyck was here), dated 1438.

